Tim started riding at the age of seven, his first pony was a 12.2hh skewbald pony called Danny Boy. As a youngster he was a keen member of the Grove Pony Club. After a year working for Mike Saywell, Tim went as second jockey to Graham Fletcher, both of which gave him invaluable experience in the world of professional show jumping. In the Spring of 1995 he featured in a programme by Cutting Edge on Show Jumping, which gave an insight into the sport. Tim was also a television star in November 2001 when he took part in a programme called Faking It, training a dancer to show jump in one month. When he finds the time Tim enjoys watching other sports, especially football.
